1. It's a pleasure to welcome several additions to our ranks since our last Communication, and to introduce them: Mr. Shaw (mentioned again hereafter, a term he especially will understand) is ^{among} the best known of all Sherlockians. He is a retired funeral director. Mrs. Shaw also is well indoctrinated. Mr. Redmond is a long-time student of the Sacred Writings, and author of "Baker Street Pages." Mr. Schatell makes a specialty of collecting, and sometimes offering, rare Sherlockiana; he, too, is mentioned hereafter. With Dr. Kaminster's addition to our fold we shall know to whom to turn in event some Gila Monster, or such, takes a nip at one of us. Mr. Wiggins claims direct descent from Ethelbert Wiggins, 221 B. Baker St., first of all Baker Street Irregulars, albeit somewhat the worse for wear.

2. "Underground Jottings, Newsletter of the B.S.I. Underground" (Mr. Shaw please note) of Cornell University. Purist as we are, we called the editor's attention to a misspelling where "interest in the canon" is mentioned. "Conan" is of course intended.
