A Corresponding Scion Society of The Baker Street Irregulars

"Sherlock Holmes & the Prince of Crime.": 8 pm on Ch.13, (Tampa), Sat, Aug.1st. Edward Woodward and John Hillerman, as Holmes & Watson, assist Mycroft to recover top secrets purloined by Moriarty. 2 hrs. ("Prince", not "Napoleon"?)

Holmesian Exhibit at Palmetto Library: Your Recorder will be displaying a Sherlockian exhibit during the month of August. The theme: "Sherlock is Everywhere".

P.P.of F. Up-Date: 55 Resident Members; 38 Non-Resident; 8 Honorary Members. Circulation of "Communication" - 96.

"221" Wins FL 'Cash 3' for 3rd Time! Save your quid, kid. Had you invested a buck a day selecting the Baker Street number since 'Cash 3' began, you would have spent $2,600, and won $1500. You don't need to apply Holmesian logic to figure out the bottom line on this deal, Sherlock.

Sherlock Perot Perot says he's "not some kind of Sherlock Holmes running around with a magnifying glass" trying to dig up dirt on President Bush. But a little sleuthing around Perot's Dallas headquarters unearthed the "Ross Perot Boy Scout/Be Prepared Campaign Survival Kit." In it are: a compass "if you lose bearings when surrounded by the press;" insect-bite lotion "for negative publicity relief;" and fire starter "if the campaign starts getting dull." And in the bottom corner of the exhibit is a Boy Scout pocket magnifier "for opponent research."

SHERLOCK is Everywhere! He's even crept his way into the upcoming election, as noted in this item from the Chi-Trib. ← Evanescent politicians come and go, but Holmes was, is, and shall ever be with us.

So You Say It's Elementary?

When the Baker Street Irregulars were organized in 1934, there was no requirement for joining other than an affection for the Holmes-Watson sagas. But then a difficult crossword puzzle was developed to screen faddists from the authentic. Solution of that puzzle is no longer required, but whenever Sherlockians gather, one of their pleasures is the wealth of trivia attached to the mystique of the Master. What follows are 10 questions to test your knowledge of the "sacred writings."

1. Where did Holmes keep his tobacco?
2. In what country was Dr. Watson wounded?
3. Where was Watson wounded?
4. From what object did Holmes deduce that Watson had an older, profligate brother?
5. What initials did Holmes outline on the wall of his sitting room using his Boxer revolver?
6. Where did Holmes keep his unanswered correspondence?
7. How many steps were there to Holmes' quarters at 221B Baker St.?
8. What three kinds of pipes did Holmes smoke.
9. Who is Watson's only canonical wife?
10. What does the word Trichinopoly refer to?

GOODNESS HOLMES... SOMEONE'S BAGGED THE POOR BUGGER WITH A SACKFUL OF FERTILIZER... BUT WHY?

I HAVEN'T A CLUE, WATSON. IT LOOKS TO ME LIKE A CLASSIC CASE OF "WHO DUNG IT?"
